So, the next one was technically due 2 years ago.....so who knows when we'll get an actual "next" one. Years, anyway.

Hi, back,

Thanks for the answers to all my questions- I'm glad it's all the "same beast" [303(d) file]- that makes sense.

And, if this is called the "2012" file, when's the next one due in to EPA for review? (or is that a touchy subject???)

Best,

Hi Gail,

I'm doing ok. Hope you had a lovely holiday.

See my answers below, and let me know if you have other questions.

Hey, Jill,
How goes it?

Thanks for this notification- I have a few "light" questions for you, for my overall edification and filing endeavors.
I put "OR 2012 List Action" on my "work list table" as an upcoming file.

1. Is this what you call a 303(d) file, or a little different? Yes, this is a 303(d) file.
2. When you eventually bring me a file on this, will it be one folder or many folders? Several sub-folders, not sure if one or more accordion files. It depends on what we get back for comments and what I can put on a disk vs hard copy.
3. When, approximately, would I see these files from you? (just curious) you talk of public input, so I'm assuming you won't bring me a file until after public input. Is there a certain "time window" for public input? The public comment period ends Feb 6, unless we get a request for an extension. Then, it depends on how long it takes to respond to the comments.
4. Is the "OR 2012 List Action" and "addition(s) to the 303(d) list" & "ocean acidification comment & data" all one file? It would be all one file.

From your pal who seems to want to know,
-G.

Subject: OR 2012 list action

Hi all,

I wanted to let you know that we have just taken a Partial Approval/Partial Disapproval action on Oregon's 2012 303(d) List. We are seeking public comment on waters we are proposing for addition to their 303(d) list. We are also seeking public comment, data and information regarding possible impairments to aquatic life due to ocean acidification. The comment period is open until Feb 6. Everything can be found at:

<https://www.epa.gov/tmdl/partial-approvalpartial-disapproval-oregon-2012-303d-list>

Thanks to Jenny, Kaitlin and Jonnel for their help wrapping this up.

jill
